

Among other places in my writings where I specifically discuss the historical-situational conditionedness of theological reflection, not the least significant are On Theology: 96 f. and Doing Theology Today: 67 f.