

What does a categorial scheme express or embody?—"[I]t embodies generic notions inevitably presupposed in our reflective experience—presupposed but rarely expressed in explicit distinction" (18 [27]).

What are "the most concrete elements in our experience"?—The most concrete elements in our experience are identified by "the three notions—actual entity, prehension, nexus" (18 [27]).