

Perhaps yet another—and better—organizing principle for the two middle parts or chapters of Transcendental Metaphysics is provided by Hartshorne's distinction between "the status and the content of metaphysics" (AD: 302).

5 February 1998