

Abstracts are eo ipso universals, even as concretes are eo ipso particulars.

Abstracts may be called "properties," even as concretes may be called "instances."

Abstracts may be called "determinables," even as concretes may be called "determinates."

October 1991