

Scrawled shortcuts through the research maze...

Getting Medieval and Unusual

Encyclopedia of the Middle Ages

Our newest online resource for history enthusiasts—check it out!

Find it on the Databases list: <http://depts.drew.edu/lib/eresources/>

Index of Christian Art

Need a picture of an everyday medieval activity, a saint, or a medieval artifact? From enamels to liturgical combs, you'll find them here. Append "and Public" to your search to get items linked to images.

Find it on the Databases list: <http://depts.drew.edu/lib/eresources/>

Medieval Science, Technology, and Medicine: an Encyclopedia

Scientists from Roger Bacon to William of Ockham, with sidelights on Fibonacci, Ibn Sina, and Maimonides. Also paints, [medical] instruments, housing, optics, music theory, calendars, agronomy, gunpowder & gynecology.

REFERENCE 509.02 M489m

Atlas of the Medieval World

Trying to sort out the decline of the Abbasid Caliphate, the Mongol empire, the paths of the Crusades, the extent of the Black Death, the 14th century Papal split, the territories of Burgundy, Britain, or Sung China? Maps and text:

REFERENCE 909.070223 M158a

Trade, Travel, & Exploration in the Middle Ages : an Encyclopedia

Did Marco Polo really go to China? How would you use a portolan chart? What kind of a boat is a hulk? What was it like to go on pilgrimage? Where is Scythia?

REFERENCE 909.0703 T763t

Medieval Jewish Civilization: an Encyclopedia

Eccentric, complex and informative on topics from Jewish food, clothing, and education to the history of the Hasidim and the Qabbalah.

REFERENCE 909.04924 M489m

Internet Medieval Sourcebook

Medieval life and history, full text, in translation. Looking for a bill of sale for a slave girl, college statutes, a description of the fall of Roman Britain? Look here:

<http://www.fordham.edu/halsall/sbook.html>

 Warning: Browsing reference sources can be enlightening!*