

Paul Seybold

Assistant Men's Basketball Coach Paul Seybold (1942-2012) joined Head Coach Daryl Keckler's staff prior to the 2009-10 season and coached nearly four years with the Rangers. He added almost four decades of coaching experience to the staff. Seybold was responsible for the implementation of the team's zone defense as well as advance scouting. He was also a constant positive force in the department, and always had an encouraging word for the student-athletes, coaches and staff. The Bartonsville, Pa. native was a member of the Landmark Conference Coaching Staff of the Year in 2010-11 when the Rangers clinched the program's first ever Landmark Conference playoff berth and set a new school record with nine-consecutive wins. Seybold coached his last game for the Rangers Wednesday December 5, 2012.
