

Ewing Distinguished Political Science Major Award

Given to the graduating political science major who has demonstrated exemplary performance in his or her coursework in the department and exceptional comprehension of the discipline. Created with the support of Drew's John H. Ewing Center for Public Service and Public Affairs, a nonpartisan organization designed to enhance students' appreciation of public service and their understanding of public affairs. The Center is named for the former New Jersey State Senator, John Ewing, who throughout his distinguished career made education his highest priority.
