

Exporting citations from Google Scholar and into Endnote

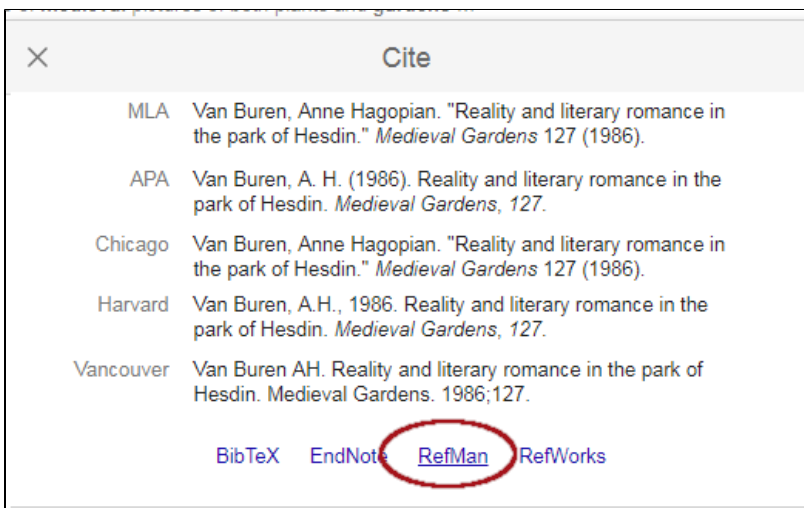

Google scholar, a popular web resource that indexes journal article citations, can be used to obtain citations in RIS (Refman) format to import into Endnote.

Downloading from Google Scholar

1. To export a single citation in Google Scholar, click on the 'cite' link under the entry for the item you are trying to cite.

2. Choose the Refman option at the bottom of the pop-up screen.

3. Allow it to save the file scholar.ris (or scholar(1).ris, etc) to your computer.
4. Go to EndnoteWeb to "collect" the citation.
5. To export more than one citation at a time, save the citations to a list in "My Library," as shown below.
6. Begin by clicking the star under each citation of interest.
